Important Information for Purchaser and Student:

- You can use up to 125 of your available units per academic year in addition to any unused units rolled over from previous years. Find out how many units you have available online at www.get.wa.gov.
- Please select the number of units you wish to use below. (If you wish to determine the dollar value of your units, multiply the number of units you will use by the 2004-2005 payout value.)
- Do not include units you intend to use for books, off-campus housing or other expenses you intend to have reimbursed. (For reimbursements, complete a Reimbursement Request Form online at www.get.wa.gov)
- The payout value for 2004-2005 can be found at www.get.wa.gov in August 2004.

I understand that it is my responsibility to monitor the available units in my GET account, as well as the balance in my school account. I agree to inform the school of any changes to the distribution of my GET units. I understand that charges not covered by GET funds are my responsibility, and that at the discretion of the institution, late fees may accrue on past due charges.

I have read and I understand the above statements and I authorize for the above institution to invoice the GET Program for the amounts I have listed above. I also authorize the use of my Social Security Number for identification purposes during the invoice process.

Further Information:

Visit <http://www.get.wa.gov> to learn more about GET and IRS Section 529 Programs.

¹ The Washington Guaranteed Education Tuition Program, or GET, is a qualified tuition program under Section 529 of the Internal Revenue Service Code. Please consider this a guaranteed source of funding.

² State-mandated fees are defined by statute as service and activities fees and operating and building fees. They are billed directly to the GET Program by the educational institution.

⁴ On-Campus housing may be invoiced through the school and cannot exceed the normal amount charged for room and board.

⁵ Remaining available units may be used for summer session.
